

BEARFOOT

Friday, January 14 | 7:30 PM
The Holland Theatre | Bellefontaine, Ohio

Clark State is going on the road and partnering with The Holland Theatre in Bellefontaine, Ohio, to bring you an uplifting, energetic and hauntingly beautiful bluegrass music concert with Bearfoot!

Call it new-timey, call it post-bluegrass, call it string band music for the 21st century - whatever the name, look to the center of where string band traditions meet youthful creativity and that's where you'll find this Alaskan-formed quintet. As they enter their second decade with a new Nashville home and a new lineup, Bearfoot has taken their place among the best and brightest of a new generation of musicians reshaping American roots music. Opening for Bearfoot is the Mad River Valley Dulcimer Society featuring a mix of folk, gospel and contemporary tunes using Appalachian lap dulcimers, hammered dulcimers, mandolins, guitars, autoharps and a marimbula.

The Holland Theatre is a beautifully restored and intimate historic theatre located at 127 East Columbus Avenue in Bellefontaine, Ohio. Visit the Theatre online at www.thehollandtheatre.org.
