The President's Column: Updating You on Holland Happenings

Spring has sprung and those Holland tulips are just popping up all over the place! I'm referring to over 100 Logan County residents who participated in 12 different focus groups last month. Many of our county and city leaders gave us very valuable information that will help in the future planning of the Logan County Arts Center. Each session was around 2 hours long. Great leadership was provided by the generosity of the facilitators of the groups: Debbie Ellis, Alan Hale, Susan Holy-cross, Gene Marine, Bill Montgomery, and Darin Olson. A big thanks also to Palmer Farms Bakery and BBQ for providing refreshments for all of the evening sessions. And a special big thank you is in order for the board members and volunteers that helped prepare for the groups.

If you haven't been by the Holland lately, be sure to drive past and notice the men working on the outside. Professional Restoration of Logan County is finishing up the brand new Sarnafil roof, the new copper gutters and downspouts, and the tuck pointing. So, within the next few weeks,

Heading for the National Register of Historic Buildings

In March, Board member Miles Armentrout presented information concerning the history of the Schine's Holland Theatre to the Ohio Historical Site Review Board in Columbus.

Among the factors emphasized to the board were the building's unique "Dutch motif" and the pivotal role the Holland will play in the revitalization of Bellefontaine's downtown area. Mr. Armentrout also came armed with many letters of support from citizens of the area.

The Ohio Review Board approved the nomination and it will now pass to the U.S. Department of the Interior for final approval.

the Holland will be water-proofed. Thus completing our first phase!! By the way, if you want to be on the crew that polishes the copper downspouts every other Monday at sunrise, please feel free to call me at the Holland. (I wonder how many calls I'll get on this?)

"I wish to invite you to attend the Annual Membership meeting at the Logan County Art Gallery at the Holland on Monday, April 23rd at 7:00 p.m."

I wish to invite you to our Annual Membership Meeting, which will be held at the Logan County Art Gallery at the Holland on Monday, April 23 at 7:00 p.m. There will be entertainment and a few other surprises. It has been several months since the last meeting for the membership and our trustees will be there to fill you in on the latest happenings.

Enclosed in this newsletter is the Logan County Landmark Preservation's Annual Report. This report highlights our organizations accomplishments in the past year. Enjoy.

Spring has sprung and those tulips at the Holland are just bursting with energy and beautiful colors, thanks to all of the Holland supporters out there. Hope to see you at the Annual Membership meeting.

Leave A Legacy

The Logan Landmark Preservation, Inc. and the Holland Theatre Project are among several Logan County nonprofit organizations that are promoting the Leave A Legacy campaign.

Charitable non-profit groups play an important role in Logan County, extending help in many ways. Help may come in the form of fighting a terrible disease, giving seniors a hot meal, or bringing beauty to our world through the arts.

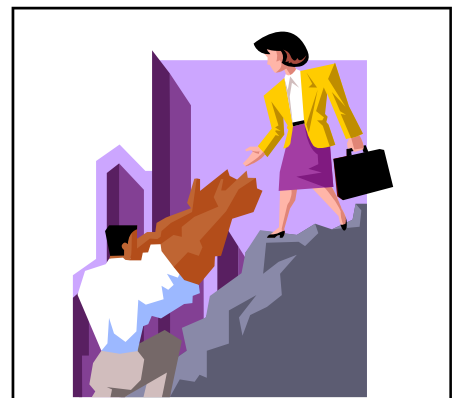

Many Logan County residents give generously of their time and resources to these organizations. When they are gone their support is deeply missed. By leaving a legacy through a gift in their will, they can continue to help organizations that are making a difference here in Logan County.

Leave a Legacy is an educational campaign designed to explain how and why to give a planned gift to a nonprofit organization. Gifts may come in the form of money, property, an investment or percentage of an estate. Generally, a gift that is given to a designated organization not only supports these organizations financially but also provides an opportunity to say thank you for their good work.

To help interested people leave some part of their estate to charity, this local initiative has been organized in Logan County to encourage bequests or planned giving by individuals from all walks of life. Logan County Leave a Legacy includes estate planning professionals and representatives from all of the major nonprofit organizations, including Logan County Landmark Preservation, Inc. For more information call Chuck Croutwater at the Holland, 937-592-9002.

Welcome Our First Employee

A BIG welcome to our secretary, Annie King, who is our first employee! (Believe it or not, but there are many others that are putting in a regular scheduled work week at the Holland as Volunteers. Without them the Holland project would not be happening.)

Getting back to Annie. Many of you probably already know that she is a retired teacher who taught art at Ridgemont and at Ohio Hi-Point. You may have purchased some of her wonderful art work. So, she is very experienced in the arts.

Annie has been working at the Holland since March 19th. She works four hours a day, five days a week and is doing a fantastic job with the mounds of paperwork we are now experiencing. So, when you call the Holland you'll hear her friendly voice saying, "Logan County Arts Center at the Holland, Annie King speaking. May I help you?" Welcome, Annie!
